BATTLE OF ARRAS

throwing their full force into their resistance along the Scarpe. They had brought up strong reserves to oppose a future British advance and "went over" in the half gray light of dawn. It was still dark enough to make a fiery spectacle of the barrage which crept ahead of them—a veritable wall of exploding shells. Men who have been over several times under the protection of a barrage are apt to grow over confident in following the shells and occasionally get hit by bits flying back, although virtually every shell clearing the way for the infantry bursts forward with a great shrapnel spray. A modern barrage as set up by the British and French gunners is a terrifying thing to face and the Germans involuntarily break before it, many of them seeking any dugouts available.

Today in many part of the battle fronts there were no more dugouts to use as shelters and the Germans had to stand and fight with the result that their casualties were higher and the prisoners fewer in those sections of the line. The British advanced in nearly every instance from mere half trenches where they had been lying for the past week awaiting the bringing up of artillery and the order to advance. The Germans' opposite then had been digging at every possible opportunity, but they too were unable to construct more than sections of an unconnected trench, with machine guns concealed in every possible nook and corner.

In the villages which skirted the battlefield it seemed as if every building contained machine gun crews. Many machine guns were fired on the opposite banks of the river Scarpe and it was somewhat difficult to deal with them. The artillery preparation for today's attacks did not cover the ground and did not equal in intensity that of Easter Monday when the first battle of Arras was launched.

ARMY BILL

to build a real army, avoiding the mistakes of other nations. We can thus show the world that we are to be effective in this war to its bitter end."

"I still am unable to understand why, if we are going to fight, we should not use every available means—the volunteer, draft, universal training and the like," said Senator Johnson.

"Our purpose is adequately to prepare an army to go to Europe," said the senator. "We would not go to such pains merely to prevent invasion. We don't want to send our boys abroad to be murdered untrained and unfitted; nobody expects German to invade us, except possibly from Mexico through machinations with bandits."

Another and vital defect of the volunteer system, Senator Wadsworth said, was its certainty to provide political officers and not men qualified to command. He said to raise an army of 500,000 volunteers would throw down the bars to incompetent officering.

Although several senators urged him to continue his address and Senator Borah said Mr. Wadsworth "was rapidly dissipating his hereditary antipathy to conscription," the New York senator concluded with a statement of the broad grounds for his advocacy of universal service saying: "The principles of democracy require the burden to be equally scattered so that every citizen, man, woman and child can help in defense of the nation. Selective draft is the only fair and democratic method."

Senator Thomas, a democratic member of the military committee, who signed the minority report of Senator McKellar, contended that conscription was neither democratic or necessary.

"It is repugnant to the spirit and principles of democratic, popular government," the Colorado senator asserted. "I deny that the volunteer system is a failure. Until it is proved so we should not resort to conscription."

The Colorado senator declared the draft was a failure for the Confederacy, and Senator Vardaman, of Mississippi, interrupted to say it had been a failure everywhere.

Most of the speeches in the house were in favor of the administration plans after Representative Dent, chairman of the military committee, had made an opening statement earnestly supporting the bill as amended by his committee to authorize calls for volunteers, with provision for applying the draft only if the volunteer system fails. Representative Kahn, of California, ranking Republican of the committee, appeared in the unique position of spokesman for the president and leader of the administration forces.

MYSTIC SHRINERS MAKE ELY A MECCA

PILGRIMAGE FROM ALL PARTS OF NEVADA TO THE GREAT COPPER CAMP

Ely will be the Mecca for about 75 Scottish Rite Masons and Shriners next week, the program including the conferring of every degree of Masonry from the fourth to and including the 32nd on a class of 35 candidates and ceremonies at which a large class will be admitted to the mysteries of the Mystic Shrine.

Members of the Reno consistory will leave Reno for Ely and expect to arrive there Sunday. From Monday to Friday the Scottish Rite ceremonies will be conferred, the candidates being admitted to the Reno chapter. In the party will be Henry W. Miles, Jay K. Everett, F. H. White, Si Ross, George W. Robinson, Jesse C. Ruodes and Robert H. Parker.

On the night of April 26 members of Korak temple, Mystic Shrine, about 60 strong and headed by the Shrine band of 25 pieces with Dr. George Steinmiller as leader, will leave for Ely on a special train. The following night a reception in honor of the visitors has been arranged by the Ely Masons, a feature of the affair to be a dance. Saturday the visitors will inspect the big smelter at McGill and the copper pit at Copper Flat, one of the wonders of the mining world. Saturday night the initiation ceremonies will be conducted, the class numbering about sixty.

Tonopah will be well represented at the Masonic ceremonial. Four or five cars filled with Masonic brethren and their wives have been scheduled for the trip and more are expected. Among those who go are Hamilton Reed and wife, Lloyd Horton and wife, I. Tasmey, James Humphrey and George Spitzer. The arrangements are not completed yet, but it is understood that the party will leave here early Friday morning so as to arrive in Ely the same evening.

BUILDING TANKS FOR TYBO MINE

The Louisiana Consolidated Mining company has bought three immense tanks from the old Shoshone mine in the Bullfrog district and is now assembling the parts as fast as they arrive. The tanks come in knock down shape so as to facilitate handling. Two of these will be erected at the warehouse in Tonopah and the third will be put up at the mine where the company for the present is using power generated by a Diesel engine. An addition to the road equipment is in the shape of a steel tank trailer truck of 700 gallons capacity for hauling oil from Tonopah to the mine. A carload of machinery is arriving daily and the trucks are kept going all the time.

A 7000-gallon storage oil tank has arrived and as soon as the big wagon, which is used for heavy and bulky machinery, which is now at Golden hauling a large boiler to the Orizaba mine, the immense oil tank will be hauled to Tybo.

OUR POLICY

We take pride in our work. We do every job as well as it can be done. We have made it our first rule that no half-way jobs shall be permitted. There is nothing truer than the old saying "what is worth doing at all is worth doing well."

We came early to the conclusion that no one would thank us for doing a poor job. We know that the man who does a cheap job is the one who pays more for it. One cheap job, even if it is done at a cheap price, will do more harm to a firm's reputation than a dozen good jobs can counteract.

Poor work is unsatisfactory to the man who gets it and expensive to the man who does it. And when the work is unsatisfactory the one for whom it was done always forgets that he paid a low price for it and the next time he goes elsewhere and is quite willing to pay the other fellow a higher price to get a better job.

GOLDFIELD WILL HOLD CELEBRATION

PATRIOTIC PARADE ON A LARGE SCALE WITH THE GOVERNOR AND HIS STAFF

Goldfield has arranged for a patriotic demonstration to occur next Saturday that will arouse the enthusiasm of the populace and show the rest of the state that the old gold camp is not preoccupied with the sordid things of life without sparing time for a movement that will show the men and women of Esmeralda county are right with the president in all things pertaining to the preservation of the country.

Dr. J. L. McCarthy, chairman of the committee of arrangements, has received an acceptance by the governor of an invitation to take part. The governor states that he will be there and that every member of his staff will accompany him.

The occasion will be made the vehicle for organizing the Red Cross movement so as to bring all workers under a common head and subject to orders from a central authority. It is proposed to hold a conference to co-ordinate the work and the occasion will be further enlivened by discussion of methods for Nevada making a proper representation in defense of the country.

DRAFT A DISGRACE SAYS CHAMP CLARK

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 24.—Speaker Clark has declared he is opposed to the selective draft and predicted that it will never pass congress.

Clark said: "Conscription never will pass in my opinion. I am for letting the flower and youth of this country volunteer before I fasten the disgrace of a draft upon them. The war department is jumping around trying to bulldoze the people into passing this bill, and I don't think they are going to do it."

(By Associated Press.)

NEW ORLEANS, April 24.—Jeff Smith, middleweight of New York, knocked out Young Ahern, of Albany, N. Y., in the fifth round of their scheduled 20-round fight here last night. Both claimed the middle-weight championship.

BUTLER THEATER

Two large audiences witnessed the combined vaudeville and picture show last evening at the Butler, and all were pleased; that was sufficient. Tonight, the animal act will be repeated, which is sure to please all the little folks when they see the dogs and the monkeys cavorting around on the stage, and there will be an entire change in the vaudeville program, which will consist of a comedy sketch, singing and dancing. The picture program will consist of the Ford Animated Weekly, containing pictures of a trip to New York City, with all its principal points of interest, also pictures of Buffalo Bill taken shortly before his death. The feature, a story of the Old South in all its charming glory, is "Her Father's Son," with dainty Vivian Martin in the leading role. The wonderful colonial mansion, the priceless antiques in the enormous main hall that contains furniture that would make a collector delirious, the spectacle of nearly one hundred couples dancing the dainty old-fashioned dances, all form a glorious romantic setting for the love story of a beautiful girl who successfully masquerades as a boy. This will be another two-hour show, pictures and vaudeville, starting at 7 and 9 p. m. Do not forget what we have told you about "The Truant Soul."

LIBERTY THEATER
Today: "Tillie's Punctured Romance," the greatest comedy ever screened, featuring the following nine (9) stars: Charles Chaplin, Marie Dressler, Charles Murray, Mabel Normand, Mack Sennett, Mack Swain, Chester Conklin, Ford Sterling and Harry McCoy, in seven big reels of laughter, coming straight from a long run in San Francisco. A new edition.

"Tillie's Punctured Romance" contains five comedians who at the present time are making pictures for their own companies. This picture has played return dates in almost every big city in which it has been shown, and has made the biggest hit of any comedy ever shown. It was played at the Pastime Theater just two years ago, for two days, and filled the house to the doors each time.

Tomorrow: Alice Brady in "A Woman Alone," a World Brady Made picture, and Mutual Weekly, showing the latest war pictures shown in Tonopah, and many other late and interesting event, absolutely the latest and best.
